the free coinage of silver | As itsprobably will not be long before the Boston Herald begins to deny that Damocratic State Conventions have taken a position differ-ent from that of Republican and at the same time refuses to srink the facts of record, we reprink the planks of these Democratic Conventions on this issue Thes will be convenient for reference Kentucky Democrats led off with this de-

"We tender our gratitude to the Demo-crats in the last (ongress for the r almost unanimous vote in both houses in factor of the free comage of nicer, and demand its re-storation to the position of equality he-fore the law given to it by our fathers." There is nothing very equivocal about that. Then came the demand of the fown Democrats, tellse, frank and emphatic

"We reiterate our densmal of one year ago for the free coinage of piter, and that is be made full legal tender for all debts, public and private." The Ohio Democrats took up silver chorus in this manner

"We denounce the demonstration of effiver in 1873 by the party then in power and we demand the reinstatement of the constitutional standard right of coach to free one unlimited coinge." On the same day the Mheinsipp. De perals echoed the free alliest refram thus-their party are thus committing the osgunization to the free silver lunacy? Most of them like the Boston Herall, the Springueld Republican and the Provi dence fournal, are either weakly extenuating the folly of their party or are trying so to miste present the situation as to lead the public to believe that there is no appreciable difference between the two pin ties. They are thus sacrificing whatever $ The continued and unparalleled ving influence they possess, and are making it impossible to organize in a effective totion has reached a point where to describing to the free silver novement withnounce it as infamous is to find the word in the Democratic piers. A FAIR SAUGGLER.

I would stand the noise no longer So I went out determined somehow or other to find the solution of this riddle About an hour passed, perhaps more Suddenly the cadences of a singing voice struck my ear I listened and heard a strange melody, son slow and ead, now rapid and lively The sounds seemed to fall from the sky I looked up, and on the roof of the cabin I saw a young girl in a strught dress with disheveled hair,

I looked again toward the singer, but she had disappeared A moment after she passed rapidly sefore me singing another song and snapping her fingers another song and snapping her fingers. She went to the oll woman and said something to her. The old woman seemed amonged. The young girl burst into a laugh. Then, with a bound she came close to me, saidlenly stopped and looked at the fixedly, as though any looked it me fixedly as though sur prised to see me. Then, turning away with in air of indifference she walked quietly tow in the shore

All the rest of the day I saw her at short intervals, always singing and dincing it ad never seen such a woman leftere

She curt scarcely be content beautiful but I have my own ideas on the subject of beauty. There was a thoroughbred look about her and with women as with horses there is nothing like breed.
What churmed me in her was the extraordinary suppleness of her figure the singular movements of her head and her long fur hair languag down in waves of gold on her neck and her nose which was perfectly formed and in her sileling glance there was something dark and wild

Toward the evening I stopped my Un-line at the door of the but and said to

Patent medicines differ One has reasonableness, another has not. One has reputation another has not. One has confidence, born of success - another has only "hopes,"

Don't take it for granted that all patent medicines are alike. They are not.

Let the years of uninterrupted success and the tens of thousands of cured and happy men and women, place Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription on the side of the comparison they belong.

And there isn't a state or territory, no → nor hardly a country in the world, whe her its people realize it or not. have men and women in them that're happier because of their discovery and their effects,

Think of this in health. Think of it in sackness. And then think whether you can afford to make the trial if the makers can afford to take the risk to give your money back as they do if they do not benefit or cure you.

Sensitive Foreign Suses. A cabman charged with furlous driving at Southwark has started the curiona theory that an Englishman is chipable of bruing a stronger scent than a foreigner. Indicate of his cab was a van isden with fish refuse— Fron this van proceeded an odor—the cabman called it an "aroma" —which two foreigness inside his vehicle tound quite overpowering. The cabman consequently douged ahead, knocked as obscenan down, and was duly sum aconed. As to the nature of the "aroma"

there seemed to be no question.

The peccant cabman, with unch deli-Gav of expression, merely described it as think," and added, "They were forexposts and could not stand it." This hypothesis of the greater anti-momatic power possessal by Englishings, compared with allegs, is one that should be examined by some comparative sociologist. It did not prevent a line of ten spillings and costs. —London Telegraph.
